SUBJECT: Commission Request to Hire Maya McInerney as an Environmental Scientist in the Planning Division

Staff Recommendation

Commission staff recommends that the Commission approve hiring Maya McInerney as an Environmental Scientist in the Planning Division prior to the next Commission meeting, which is scheduled for October 19, 2023.

Background

BCDC's Long Range Planning Manager, Erik Buehmann, has selected Maya McInerney to fill a vacant permanent Environmental Scientist position with the Long-Range Planning team. Since February, Maya has worked for BCDC as a limited term Environmental Scientist and has managed the Sediment for Wetland Adaptation Project, an EPA- and OPC-funded effort co-led by our Sediment Management Team. Maya joined BCDC after working in the Regional Water Quality Board's Enforcement program. Maya is a Lady Don, as she earned a Master's degree in Environmental Management from the University of San Francisco, and is (yet another) Banana Slug, having earned her Bachelor's degree in Biology at U.C. Santa Cruz.

Unless we hear otherwise from you by COB on Thursday, September 28, 2023, Maya will start her new position at BCDC on Monday, October 2, 2023.
